

THE NEXT ERA OF SUSTAINABILITY REPORTING

EU CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY REPORTING DIRECTIVE (CSRD)

3 CPD UNITS

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The future of corporate sustainability reporting is taking shape. At the end of November 2022, the European Union Council gave its final approval to the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) and the European Financial Reporting Advisory Group delivered the first set of draft European Sustainability Reporting Standards (ESRS) to the European Commission. With these measures, the EU aims to accelerate the transition to a sustainable economy. Under the new CSRD regulation, companies will soon be required to publish detailed information on sustainability matters. This will increase a company's accountability for its impacts on the environment and society, and provide financial institutions with comparable, verified information on sustainability performance that should facilitate allocation of finance to sustainable activities. The measures should also equip companies for implementing their own sustainability agenda. They can only make progress if they know where they stand – relative to their ambitions as well as their peers – and where they can improve.

This session will provide you with a comprehensive guide to the CSRD and will ensure that you are aware of the latest requirements in Corporate Governance issues. Consideration will be given to the background to the CSRD, including the EU Non-Financial Reporting Directive 2014 (2014/95/EU), as well as the impact of the EU Taxonomy Regulation as per EU Green Deal (2019)
